THEY SHALL NOT GROW OLD—SUN, MON, TUES—MAR 3, 4, 5

On the centenary of the end of First World War, Academy Award-winner Peter Jackson presents an extraordinary new work showing the Great War as you have never seen it. Using state of the art technology to restore original archival footage which is more than a 100-years old, Jackson brings to life the people who can best tell this story: the men who were there. Using the voices of the men involved, the film explores the reality of war on the front line; their attitudes to the conflict; how they ate; slept and formed friendships, as well what their lives were like away from the trenches during their periods of downtime. Reaching into the mists of time, Jackson aims to give these men voices, investigate the hopes and fears of the veterans, the humility and humanity that represented a generation changed forever by a global war. * THIS MOVIE WAS A LIMITED SHOW—THAT ONLY HAD 2 DATES IN DEC. WE WERE LUCKY ENOUGH TO GET THIS FILM.

ISN'T IT ROMANTIC—THURS, FRI, SAT—MAR 7, 8, 9

Australian-born Natalie (Rebel Wilson) works hard at the offices of Langley & Byron Architects in New York City. Although she loved romantic comedies when she was young, she now believes they're lies, because her mother told her things like what happened in those movies don't happen to girls like her. Now a complete cynic, she decides to try to stay open to the possibility of love on the advice of a co-worker. Unfortunately, that makes her a prime target for a mugger in the subway. Thinking he wants to get to know her, she's dismayed when, after introducing himself, he grabs her purse and makes a run for it. She gets it back, but is knocked out cold in the process. When Natalie wakes up in the hospital, she discovers to her amazement that her life has suddenly become a romantic comedy in which she's the leading lady, complete with a hot Australian leading man (Liam Hemsworth).

COMEDY/ROM RATED: PG 1 HRS 40 MINS

COLD PURSUIT—SUN, MON, TUES—MAR 10, 11, 12

Nelson "Nels" Coxman (Liam Neeson), a snowplow operator in a small Colorado ski town in the Rocky Mountains, is named Citizen of the Year. However, his quiet life with his wife (Laura Dern) takes a turn when their son is murdered by a drug cartel. Nels sets out to get revenge on those responsible, but inadvertently starts a gang war that threatens to destroy the town.

SECOND ACT—SUN, MON, TUES—MAR 17, 18, 19

Maya (Jennifer Lopez) is disappointed at where her life has taken her. She works in a low-paying job at Value Shop, where she's insulted regularly by the boss and passed over for promotions in favor of men. She begins to get bitter, hating people who've done more with their lives and who've had the chance to experience amazing adventures such as climbing Mount Kilimanjaro. She's astounded when out of the blue, she gets a job interview for a consultant position with private finance firm Franklin & Clarke. The man conducting the interview is impressed with Maya's resumé, which to her surprise says she has a business school degree. There's also a link to her Facebook page, with photos of her climbing Mount Kilimanjaro and posing for photo with the Obamas. It turns out that a friend of hers set up a number of online pages, including a fancy resumé, in order to make her life look more exciting. She gets the consultant position, which comes with a corner office with gorgeous views of the city, company credit cards and a swanky new apartment. She's good at the job and her life is suddenly amazing, but when she's told that in order to close a new deal, the company has chosen her, because she's the only employee who speaks Mandarin, she has to think quickly in order to not be found out.

WHAT MEN WANT—SUN, MON, TUES—MAR 24-26

Successful female sports agent Ali Davis (Taraji P. Henson) is sure she's about to make partner at Summit Worldwide Sports Management. However, at the big meeting, when she's waiting to hear her name called out, she finds out a man has gotten the promotion instead. Knowing that she'll always be left out of the "Boys Club" by men unless she can get inside their minds, she visits a psychic who has her drink some nasty flavored tea. Later, when Ali has an accident that knocks her out cold, she wakes up in the hospital with the ability to hear men's thoughts. Although it's unsettling at first, she soon comes to realize her newfound power is a gift. She uses it to outsmart her colleagues in their rush to sign the next basketball superstar, but finds her relationship with her best friends and a potential new love interest put to the test.
